PREREQUISITES:
CONCENTRATION AREA: GROWTH, FLUCTUATION AND ECONOMIC PLANNING
STUDY PLAN This is the second of two courses on household economics. In this second course, we emphasize the importance of the family composition process: what has been called the marriage market. How this market affects family choices and how families' choices affect the decisions regarding marriage, separation, etc., are subjects studied in this course.
GOALS The aim of the course is to introduce students to the most recent and relevant articles in the field, enabling them to present their own research projects in the field.
